NEWS RELEASE

Clorox Names Warwick Every-Burns Senior Vice President - International

9/26/2005

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 26, 2005 – The Clorox Company (NYSE: CLX) (PCX: CLX) today announced that Warwick Every-Burns has been named senior vice president – International, effective Jan. 1, 2006, reporting to Chairman and CEO Jerry Johnston. Every-Burns has also been appointed a member of the company's management executive committee.

"Warwick has made consistent contributions to our business," said Johnston. "Under his leadership, our international division has experienced consecutive years of strong top-line growth and improvement in profitability. I'm delighted to recognize his leadership and have him join the company's executive management team."

Every-Burns, 52, who was previously vice president – general manager, International, has responsibility for the company's international business segment.

Prior to that, Every-Burns served as vice president – general manager of the company's Asia-Pacific division. In this position, Every-Burns was responsible for operations in Australia, New Zealand, Asia and Africa, along with the international trade business. Every-Burns also participates on the board of the company's Glad® products joint venture with Procter & Gamble.
