StubHub Announces Extension of Senior Credit Facilities

2026-10-14

Extends US Dollar and Euro Term Loan B Maturities to October 2033 and Revolving Credit Facility to October 2031

Reduces Borrowing Costs on Term Loans by 25 Basis Points

Strengthens Foreign Exchange Risk Profile

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- StubHub Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: STUB), a leading global ticketing marketplace for live events, today announced it has extended the maturities of its senior credit facilities, further strengthening the company's balance sheet and extending its capital structure runway.

StubHub, through its wholly owned subsidiary StubHub Holdco Sub, LLC, amended its existing credit agreement to extend the maturity of its $804 million USD Term Loan B and its €452 million Euro Term Loan B (collectively, the "Term Loans") by 3.5 years from March 2030 to October 2033. As part of the transaction, the company increased the USD Term Loan B by $171 million and reduced the Euro Term Loan B by €152 million, thereby strengthening its foreign exchange risk profile. As a result, the amended credit agreement now consists of a $975 million USD Term Loan B and a €300 million Euro Term Loan B. The total amount under the Term Loans remains unchanged.

The transaction brought a 25-basis point improvement in borrowing costs with the extended USD Term Loan B bearing interest at SOFR plus 450 basis points and the extended Euro Term Loan B bearing interest at EURIBOR plus 475 basis points.

The company also extended the maturity of a portion of its existing Revolving Credit Facility by one year from September 2030 to October 2031, subject to the terms of the amendment.

The transaction follows a period of significant deleveraging for StubHub since its September 2025 initial public offering. The company has repaid $1.1 billion of debt over the prior twelve months. In September, Moody's Ratings upgraded the Corporate Family Rating of StubHub to B2 from B3.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. served as Lead Left Arranger and Administrative Agent on the transaction.
