Donaldson Announces New Distribution Center to Serve its Mobile Solutions Aftermarket Filter Business

2024-10-15

The expanded distribution network will further strengthen Donaldson's industry-leading fill rates.

MINNEAPOLIS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Donaldson Company, Inc. (NYSE: DCI), a leading worldwide provider of innovative filtration solutions, proudly announces the opening of its newest distribution center in Olive Branch, Mississippi. This new facility will further strengthen Donaldson's ability to meet growing customer demand in the mobile solutions aftermarket business, including the heavy-duty trucking, construction, mining, and agricultural equipment sectors.

The Olive Branch distribution center, located in the Memphis, Tennessee metropolitan area, will provide an additional 200,000 square feet of warehousing space to Donaldson's distribution center footprint. Adding this new facility will provide the necessary room for the growth of the business while also providing the opportunity to further enhance the capabilities at the primary distribution center in Rensselaer, Indiana. The combined capabilities will enable more responsive service to customers and reinforce Donaldson's commitment to operational excellence and customer satisfaction.

"Our industry-leading fill rates have been a cornerstone of Donaldson's success in serving the mobile solutions aftermarket," said Angela Zurick, vice president, mobile solutions aftermarket. "The addition of this new distribution center further enhances our ability to deliver products with speed and reliability, ensuring that our customers experience minimal downtime and maximum productivity. We are building on our reputation for unparalleled product availability, ensuring that our customers continue to receive the parts and filters they need, when they need them."
