WesBanco Announces Outstanding Community Reinvestment Act Rating

2010-08-12

WHEELING, W.Va., Aug. 12 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Paul M. Limbert, WesBanco, Inc. (Nasdaq: WSBC), President & CEO, announced today that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) has awarded WesBanco affiliate, WesBanco Bank, Inc., a composite "Outstanding" rating for its Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) performance in 2007-2009, the highest rating awarded by federal regulators.

The FDIC's CRA examination of WesBanco Bank, Inc., dated March 15, 2010, measured the bank's performance in meeting community credit needs. This is WesBanco Bank's fourth consecutive Outstanding rating.

The FDIC directly examines and supervises more than 4,900 banks and savings banks for operational safety and soundness, more than half of the institutions in the banking system. Of the more than 1,400 banks it examined in 2009, only 5% received an Outstanding rating.

Mr. Limbert said, "WesBanco is proud to have the efforts of its staff recognized by the Outstanding rating. In today's challenging economic environment, it has become even more important for banks to fulfill their commitments under the CRA – to return vital capital to all segments of the communities we serve, especially in low- and moderate-income areas, and to ensure small businesses receive the funding they need to stay competitive and to keep Americans working. WesBanco is committed to the success of the communities in which we do business, and we are pleased that our efforts to support these communities have been recognized by the FDIC."

Categorized as a large bank under the CRA, WesBanco's performance in community lending, investing and service was reviewed by the FDIC. The composite score for the CRA performance is derived from the collective results of three independent tests that are performed to evaluate the bank's lending support of the communities served, investment in those communities and service to those communities by bank employees.

The Lending Test reviewed the number of mortgage, retail and small business, and community development loans made and their geographic distribution. Examiners recognized WesBanco for its "excellent responsiveness" to the credit needs of its communities, as well as its "excellent penetration" or loan distribution throughout its market areas. In the three years of the examination period, the Bank made $212.6 million in community development loans.

The Investment Test measured the capital investments the Bank made, such as investments, deposits, membership shares and grants that have community development as their primary purpose. Examiners concluded that WesBanco made a "significant level, more than $50 million, of qualified investments that showed good responsiveness to credit and community development needs."

The Community Service Test measured the accessibility of branches and other delivery methods to all segments of the communities served, as well as the level and complexity of community development services provided by the Bank's employees. WesBanco was recognized as a "leader in providing community development services, having provided nearly 17,700 hours of community service".

Joe Flynn, Senior Vice President Community Development, stated, "This rating is the result of the effort and dedication of the entire WesBanco staff and organization. Our ability to remain focused on the needs of our communities and to provide products, programs and services to meet those needs, while expanding into new market areas and growing our primary business, is a testament to our Bank's commitment to the spirit of the Community Reinvestment Act."
