

CONTACT THE BELDEN INC. BOARD
Reporting Ethical and Compliance Issues through the Belden Hotline

Belden’s Board of Directors and management encourage associates to help maintain the reputation of the company. If you become aware of a potential issue involving ethical concerns, fraud or violations of law, you are encouraged to report the matter to your direct supervisor as soon as possible. In situations where associates are uncomfortable reporting through the normal chain of authority, Belden provides several ways for reports to be made directly to the Belden compliance team (consisting of Legal and Internal Audit personnel). Complaints about Belden’s accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters will be communicated to the Chairman of the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of Belden Inc. Other concerns will be communicated to management, or, if appropriate, to the Chairman of the Board, who presides over executive sessions of the non-management directors.

The Chairman of the Board or Chairman of the Audit Committee may direct that certain matters be presented to the Audit Committee or the full Board and may direct special treatment, including the retention of outside advisors or counsel, for any concern addressed to them.

You may report your concerns anonymously or confidentially as noted below, although some of the methods are unavailable where restricted by local privacy laws and regulations. If you choose to use the Hotline, your concern or complaint will be assigned a number to maintain anonymity and you will be able to call to receive a periodic update as instructed by the operator.
