High Steaks at the Carroll County Junior Fair

2022-08-09

At Infinity Natural Resources we are committed to setting a standard for community involvement. We understand the importance of supporting our neighbors and strive to give back to the people and communities that are vital to INR's success. We are excited by opportunities to get our hands dirty and are doing our part to make the future a better place. INR's deep ties to Appalachia influence its belief in cultural sustainability by both creating and preserving traditions within the Basin.

One of our favorite new traditions is our involvement with the Carroll County Junior Fair in Carrollton, Ohio. In 2021, INR was able to submit the winning bid on the Grand Champion Hog. In 2022, we were able to secure the winning bid on the Grand Champion Steer. We look forward to our continued participation and the opportunity to support the future generation's stewardship and service.
